Toni Gundersen

I can get you there.

I have the experience, knowledge and persistence to help you design and furnish an amazing space for your organization. I love to explore goals, dreams and challenges with my clients as we work towards designing a space that works. You and your team spend eight or more hours a day there - make it great!

New products and trends for the workplace are always being introduced. It can be a difficult task to navigate the options available as there are literally thousands. Not to worry - I have experience with all aspects of an interiors project - design, furnishings, finish selection, construction and installation for a wide variety of client industries - education, senior living, financial and manufacturing.
